Why XenDirect?

Here Are Eight Powerful Reasons.

"Millions saw the apple fall; Newton was the only one who asked why."

— Bernard Baruch

Cloud-Based Reliability

No local software is required. XenDirect is hosted and supported completely by Xenegrade. Data backups are performed continuously and automatically. Xenegrade meets the highest standards for security so users can be confident that the system will be there when they need it.

Mobile Responsive

Each of the four modules in XenDirect are responsive to a variety of mobile devices and platforms. Whether using a phone, tablet, laptop, or desktop, XenDirect is easily accessible on any browser. If you can access the internet, you can access XenDirect!

Built for CE, by CE

XenDirect's design and planning is led by an experienced continuing education program manager with decades of experience across a broad array of program types in many areas of lifelong learning.

Proven Value

The average user sees a 25% increase in the first year of implementing XenDirect. With flat-rate, upfront pricing not based on the number of registrations, your program can grow without increasing your cost of operations for software.

A Version to Meet Your Need

XenDirect is available in three versions, designed to fit the demands and requirements of a diverse set of customers. Each version includes both an Administrative module for end-users and the Online Web Registration module for students.

Built-In Business Intelligence

Business intelligence and analytics are an integral element of operating a successful program. Insight Business Intelligence is 100% embedded within XenDirect. All reports can be modified, saved, scheduled, and exported in various formats. Users can also create reports ad hoc. You have the data you need, in the format you need, when you need it.

Powerful Connections

A wide array of powerful integration options extend your ability to link XenDirect to your other systems including over thirty leading LMS, CRM, ERP, SSO, room management, payment gateways, and content software providers. XenDirect also includes custom integration options so you can make your entire system run smoothly.

Support, Support, and More Support

Multiple levels of support (all US-based) include online or in-person coaching and training, self-guided LMS courses, project management software (Basecamp) used during implementation, an extensive knowledgebase, response times on average of less than half an hour during business hours, and 24/7/365 critical system outage response give users confidence in their ability to utilize the XenDirect system to the fullest.
